(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

CT. PETERSBURG, Aug. 12, [By Atlantic Cable] 1:37 a. m. Public anxiety regarding the fate of the Port Arthur squadron, which has reached the highest pitch, remained unrelieved when the people of St. Petersburg retired tonight.

The reports from Tokio and Chefoo of the sea fight which followed the departure of the squadron are so conflicting that a strong hope exists that the Russian ships succeeded in breaking through the Japanese fleet. Indeed, it is rumored late tonight that the Admiralty had received information that the squadron had passed beyond the Shantung promontory, which would bring the squadron at least 150 miles to the southeast of Port Arthur and into the Yellow Sea.

Although unable to confirm this rumor, the Associated Press learns that the family of Lieut. Smirnoff, an officer of the battleship Czarevitch, this evening received a telegram from him dated at Tsingchau today. The message contained only two words "Alive; embraces." Tsingchau is 160 miles southwest of Chefoo, in the province of Shantung, and is at the entrance of Kiauchau Bay. The receipt of this telegram might be construed as partial confirmation of the rumor that the squadron had reached the open sea beyond Shantung. In no other way can Lieut. Smirnoff's family explain the message from Tsingchau.

It is hardly believed that the squadron itself put into Kiauchau, although some time ago it was reported that it might take refuge in this port. It is regarded as more likely that one of the torpedo-boat destroyers was sent there with official dispatches, and filed Lieut. Smirnoff's telegram.

The news of the dismantling of the torpedo-boat Ryeshitelni at Chefoo has not caused surprise. It is understood that she was deliberately sacrificed so that Vice-Admiral Skrydloff might be apprised of the departure of the Russian vessels from Port Arthur, in order that he might start out with the Vladivostok squadron for the purpose of meeting them. It is denied at the Admiralty that the squadron left Port Arthur because the situation of the fortress was desperate. The Admiralty authorities say it is more than likely that with the Japanese close up to the perimeter of the fortress, the warships were unable to render further effective aid, and that their safety was endangered by the plunging shells dropping from Wolf Hill.

> BOMBARDED THE TOWN. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

CHEFOO, Aug. 11, 8:15 p. m.-According to the latest inforation obtainable, the Russian squadron has not returned to Port Arthur. On the night of August 9, heavy cannonading was heard at sea in the direction of Port Arthur.

Advices from the fortress say that the Japanese bombarded the town, placing their batteries in dense kaolin fields, where they were effectually masked. The shells dropped mainly in the western basin, where the squadron was anchored. Many of the shells fell upon the battleship Retvizan, but no serious damage was done either to the town or to the fleet. Later, the forts got the range of the Japanese field batteries, and drove them from their shelter in the kaolin.

The morning of August 10 the squadron put to sea, where heavy cannonading was heard for several hours. The result of the battle is not known, and nothing definite has been learned regarding either squadron.

> JAP DESTROYERS AT CHEFOO. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

CHEFOO, Aug. 12, 3 a. m.-Two large Japanese torpedoboat destroyers, which have been hovering outside the harbor, entered under the cover of darkness last night, showing no lights, and anchored a quarter of a mile from the Russian torpedo-boat destroyer Ryeshitelni, which had been moved to a permanent anchorage. The correspondent of the Associated Press was not allowed to board the Japanese vessels. The Japanese officers said they would depart at daylight.

It is understood that Sah, the Chinese admiral, discovered the presence of the Japanese destroyers and presented the same demands to them that he had earlier given to the Russian destroyer Ryeshitelni, namely, either to leave port or disarm. Darkness prevented a close inspection of the Japanse destroyers, but outwardly they appeared to be in good condition. A Japanese officer who was talking over the side of one of the vessels with the correspondent of the Associated Press was reprimanded by a supe rior, and compelled to cease. This action is in striking contrast with the frankness of Capt. Shestatovsky of the Ryeshitelni.

CHEFOO, Aug. 12, 6 a. m.-A boarding party from the Japanese torpedo boat destroyer boarded the dismantled Russian torpedo-boat destroyer Ryeshitelni this morning at 3:30 o'clock. The Japanese discharged their small arms and during the firing a Russian was wounded in one of his legs. Daybreak showed a third Japanese destroyer towing the Ryeshitelni out of the harbor,

Secretary Taft arrived here today on the private yacht of President Chase of the Jamestown and Lake Eric Railroad

This afternoon he addressed the largest audience that has gathered at the summer assembly for years, his subject being: "Our Duty in the Philippinea."
Secretary Taft said the English student of colonial government thought conferred on the people of the Philippine Islands than was wise, while the

"The chances for development of 30 per cent of the ignorant Filipinos is clearly shown in the education and refinement that we sind in the comparatively small educated class in the islands," said the Secretary. "It is the failure to identify themselves with the government as part of it and responsible for its proper administration that renders the great body of the Filipino people as at present unfit for complets self-government, and the introduction of the system of jury trial,"

The problems before this government, he said, is how best to educate the Filipinos for self-government. The first step taken was the education of the present generation in the primary and secondary schools and in English. It was a matter of conjecture how long the process of education of the people will take, but it should be continued long enough under American auspices to insure its continuance under the auspices of the Filipinos, if they should see fit to establish an independent government.

Continuing, he said: "If the governnever be recovered. It was shown by this is taken to explain the failure to ty Jail this afternoon after probably fatally shooting Tony Korizek, a deputy sheriff.

Pursued by deputies and John Raab, a butcher who was armed, Gravelle took refuge in an alley beside the residence of Gov. Joseph Toole, where a pistol duel took place. After an exchange of shots Gravelle ran into the basement of the Governor's house, where he shot and killed himself. He had been wounded by bullets from the guns of his pursuers.

The escape took place at 2 o'clock, as Gravelle was about to be led from the jail to the courtroom in the county building across the street. Deputy Sheriff Korizek led Gravelle out of the cellroom. Suddenly Gravelle pulled a revolver and pointed it at the deputy. The latter made a move toward his gun and Gravelle fired twice at him, both bullets taking effect. One struck Korizek in the breast a few inches from the heart. Jailer Jones, not armed, threw up his hands. Gravelle ordered the jailer to open the door of the jail, which he did. He then walked deliberately out of jail and to the street corner. thirty feet away.

No official news on the subject had reached the Admiralty when a correspondent showed the Associated Press dispatch from Chefeo to Admiral Avellan, chief of the Admiralty, but he expressed no surprise, and on the contrary did not conceal his satisfaction.

He explained that Capt. Chestakovsky probably had reported directly to Vice-Admiral Skrydloff and Viceroy Alexieff. IRY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.1 ANSHANSHAN (Half-way between Halcheng and Liao Yang, Aug. 11, 12:49 p.m.) A reconnoissance in force, August 7, proved that the Japanese are making a wide detour of the Liao Valley toward Mukden. The Thirty-fifth Regiment of Sharpshooters, with two guns, participated in the reconnoissance, which was directed against the west flank of the Japanese position near Anshanshan. The movement revealed the presence of only one Japanese brigade, with ten guns lately landed at the port of Newchwang. The brigade is formed of raw recruits, almost boys. The whole Japanese force south of Asshanshan is not more than a division, with a brigade of artillery.

The departure of adron from Port Arthur generally interpreted to indicate that the siege of the fortress is entering Lord Lansdowne concluded with remarking that he was glad to be able to add that the replies of the Russian government to the British representations justified the hope that these acts of destruction of neutral prizes were not likely to be repeated.

The British government deeply realized the gravity of the question and would deem it to be its duty to insist strongly upon its rights. This country possessed rights, which, owing to her predominant interest in the commerce of the Far East, she, more than any other power, was called upon to vindicate.

The operations extended over a front more than fifty miles in length. Both stacks were successful in respect to carrying local points, but the Japanese plans were not fulfilled, for the reason that they contemplated partly surrounding the enemy, capturing many and possibly capturing the batteries.

The Japanese artillery fire was accurate, and the advance of the infantry was courageous as usual.

The Japanese plan of battle was as follows: The main body of the alvision occupying the center of the Japanese left was to move upon Yangse Pass with an infantry attack crossing the valley diagonally toward the southwest. CHICAGO, Aug. II.—The stock-yards strike tonight seems no nearer a settlement than it did the day the strugge began. Efforts of a committee composed of retail butchers and grocers to bring about a conference between the packers and strike leaders was of no avail today.

The retailers' committee was in conference with Edward Tilden, John Maurer, Thomas Wilson and Thomas J. Conners, representing the packers, for three hours this afternoon, and at the end of the meeting the following statement was given out by the Committee of Business:

"We were courteously received by a committee representing the packers, and were informed that, considering all that had passed and present conditions, no good reason existed why any further conference, with the sirilers would be beneficial."

further than to confirm the statement given out by the committee.

When the strike leaders were informed of the determination of the packers to refuse to enter into further conferences with the unionists they began to form plans to force the hand of the legal department of the United States government in an endeavor to bring about a settlement. This movement was decided upon by the legal stylesers of the strikers after they had received what they considered reliable attemation that the Attorney-General would not make a move to bring into operation the perpetual injunction now held by the government against combinations among the packing firms

This, it is expected by strike leaders, will induce the President to take up the fight and force the packers to produce their books, contracts and agreements in spen court. Such a step, it is believed by the strikers, will bring the packers to terms and end the struggie.

The live-stock receipts consisted of 7000 cattle, 14,600 hogs and 2000 sheep, and to this was added more than half of yesterday's receipts. There was little buying yesterday and less today, and as a result, prices fell lower. This was largely due to the shutting down of big eastern plants, which bought heavily in this market.

Mr. Stewart has been in the city several days studying the strike situation, in conjunction with the United States special agent, T. A. Carroll. WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

There was a memorable sight from the Wolf Hills when the Japanese at-tacked the Russian positions there July 25. Five Japanese divisions moved across the plains to the assault under cover of their guns. The onset was so desperate that it almost verged on frenzy. It was said at Port Arthur that Field Marshal Oyama commanded the Japanese forces in person, and sev-eral princes of the blood and veteran generals lead on the attacking forces, giving example of courage and resource giving example of courage and resource previously unequaled.

The Japanese artillery received a fresh supply of ammunition the previous evening, and never before was there such a terrific hall of projectiles, but the efforts of the Japanese were unavailing against the determined stand of the Russians, who proved themselves worthy sons of the defenders of Sebastopol, and the attack was repulsed with enormous losses. The refugee gives the Russian losses at 1500 and those of the Japanese at 10,000.

After the battle, Gen. Stoessel or-and those of the Japanese at 10,000.

After the battle, Gen. Stoessel ordered out every awailable surgeon to dress the Japanese wounded, but the Russians were unable to bring them into the fortress, where the problem of feeding the non-combatants is too serious. Consequently, the Japanese wounded were left on the field of pattle, to be taken off by their own peonie.

the absorbing topic of the escape of the Port Arthur Squadron, the question whether Gen. Kouropatkin will accept or refuse a general engagement at Liao MONTANA AFFECTED.

IAO rang, aug. 11.—[By Aslatic Cable.] A refugee from Port Arthur who has arrived at Liao Yang says the defenders of the fortress remain all day at their posts in spite of the dreadful heat, the women heroically carrying water to the parched soldiers, although not a single space withdrawal of a large force in the face within the perimeter of the fortress is of a superior foe, closely pressing our free from bullets and bursting shells. Sometimes the whole fortress seemed enveloped in smoke from the countless shell explosions.

There was a memorable sight from

"There are two other conditions remaining. Firstly, there is at Liao Yang an enormous accumulation of stores which it would be necessary to sacrifice, and, secondly, the Russians are in possession of fortifications of exceptional strength, which discount the numerical superiority of the foe.

"It is no secret that the Russians have fortified Liao Yang for the construction of defenses was reported in letters and telegrams published months ago. One of our best engineers, Gen. Velichko, designed and supervised the construction of these defenses, which are therefore the best that military science can devise."

are therefore the best that military science can devise."

If Dbororlaky's view 'se correct, it is pointed out that Gen. Kouropatkin might reasonably expect to hold out at Liao Yang for some time, and that he could even stand a siege and be able to depend on his enormous stores to feed his army (in case the Japanese cut off his communications,) pending the arrival of reinforcements from the north. The persistent report that Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch is moving from Vladivostok toward Mukden with from 20,000 to 20,000 men, lends color to this version. It is also pointed out that if the Russians took such care to fortify Liao Yang, it was with the view of holding it against a superior force.

Notwithstanding these considerations of a purely military character, the belief is very prevalent outside, as well as inside the War Office, that Gen. Kouropatkin has made up his mind to avoid staking the whole future of the campaign upon the issue of an engagement at this stage and that he has resolved at all costs to retire to the north, if he has not already done so.

THREE GOOD SCHOLARSHIPS.

As the end of the scholarship contest and the opening of the new school year are but a few weeks distant, some information about the various institutions represented in the contest and the plans and arrangements for the coming semester will be of value to the contestants, and may help some of them to make up their minds what scholarships they will choose if successful in the contest. For that reason a series of articles pertaining to the schools will be published, the first of which appears today. Contestants and all students who have not yet decided what schools to attend the coming session will do der the direction of Dean W. F. Skeele, assisted by a corps of experienced teachers well known in the musical world. The equipment is ample, including two large pipe organs. Fortnightly pupils' recitais and frequent faculty concerts add to the efficiency of the instruction.

The College of Fine Arts at Garvanza is under the leadership of Prof. W. L. Judson and includes mechanical drawing, illustrating and painting of all kinds, as well as work in sculpture and casts. Figh Smith out of nineteenth Pier has succeeded in captur-near-eighth place from Harry W. M. the good-looking young man proture is presented today. The Frandens lad is making a gallant to win a scholarship in either Pstytethnic Institute or Occi-college. Being a working boy, not much time to devote to the and his territory is limited to pandens. Considerable improvement has been inaugurated in the matter of facilities for athletic sports. A space 270x450 feet will be enclosed by an eight-foot feet will be under the interest and contests that will be held during the coming year. Bleachers are also to be built and the football practice of students will be under the immediate tilrection of the faculty.

In the gymnasium, also, great improvements have been made. The building measures 46x70 feet, with an eighteen-foot ceiling, and all late apparatus and improvements, including 20s lockers and offices for directors. An effort will be made to have all students take gymnasium work, for which credits will be given.

A preceptress has been engaged by the faculty to take care of the girl pupils and assist them in their college work. This is a new feature in the methods of the university which will be greatly appreciated by "co-eds."

The Times has at its disposal to be awarded as prizes in the scholarship contest one scholarship in the preparatory course of the university, good for one year's free tuition; one year's course in either the College of Liberal Arts, of the College of Law, and one full year's scholarship in the College, of Fine Arts.

Nat B. Browne of Ventura is redhod of the law scholarship, and Alva Odell of Santa Monica would also like to have it, but Browne seems to be destined to be the winner. Miss Laura Tupman of Hynes wants the scholarship in the College of Fine Arts, which is located at Garvanza, but is an adjunct of the university. Frank M. Porter, A.M., LL.B., has been elected dean of the reorganized Law College, and Gavin W. Craig, LL.B., will act as secretary. The course has been extended an additional twelve months, making it three years. The staff of instructors includes, in addition to dean and secretary, a number of the most learned members of the local bar.

Ancedotes of Hall Caine.

An anecdote about Hall Caine, the Manx author, aiways show interesting phases of his personality. The last time I saw Sir Gilbert Parker he said:

"I was hurrying along the boulevard in Paris one day, when my progress was arrested by a dense crowd in front of an art shop. Evidently, thought I, Lere is an extraordinary picture on exhibition. The canvas was a remarkable idealization of the Savior—a thin, strongly Hebraic face, with closely-cropped red hair and beard.

"Suddenly the crowd parted to admit a man who approached with bowed head. It was Hall Caine! He stood before the portrait with folded arms, gravely studying the face and pose of the figure on the canvas. The similarity of the portrait to the man standing before it was very striking.

"Caine turned to go, but seeing me, came to my side.

"I say, did you notice how the crowd parted to admit me?" asked Caine.

"I certainly did, was my reply.

"And do you see how these people make way for me as I go away?"

"Assuredly."

"And do you see how these people make way for me as I go away?"

"Assuredly."

"Hey think it is L, was his calm, matter-of-fact explanation."

When the King and Queen recently visited the Isle of Man, Hall Caine was asked to drive with them, in order to point out the objects of interest. He appeared to think that, the only people of the island were the characters in his novels, and regaled their Majesties with something like this:

"There is the exact spot at which Glory Quayle is first introduced to the reader!" Again, "Donald MacSheaf passed through that gateway as he encountered the trusty laired from Douglas." And at another place, "Here the blacksmith shod the landlord's horse in "The Manxman." Thus the cicerone continued for two mortal hours.

Trieir Majesties were dreadfully bored. King Edward asked to be

In 'The Manxman.' Thus the cierone continued for two mortal hours.
Their Majesties were dreadfully bored. King Edward asked to be driven back to town and abandoned sightseeing. When Caine stepped from the carriage he dropped upon one knee.
"Rise, Mr. Caine!" commanded His Majesty, according to the story.
The author got on his feet, much chagrined. He had confidently expected, it is said at Douglastown, to hear words that would create him a knight: "Rise, Sir Hall!"
Knighthoods had been liberally doled out, and Caine couldn't understand why he failed to get one.—[Julius Chambers, in Harper's Weekly.

Liberia's New President. Few Baltimoreans ever hear of Liberia, the negro republic on the Africa: Few Baltimoreans ever hear of Liberia, the negro republic on the African west coast, and few know that a Baitmore colored man, the Rev. Ernest Lyon, is United States Minister at its capital, Monrovia, But, despite its obscurity, Liberia is nevertheless a wide-awake republic, and the other day it inaugurated a new President. His name is Thomas Barclay, and he is a native of Burbados, in the West Indies. In 1855 he was taken to Liberia as a boy, and since his early manhood he has been a politician there. As Secretary of State he accomplished the novel feat of keeping a balance in real cash in the republic's treasury, and for this his grateful fellow citizens made him Presicent.

Liberia was originally intended to be a refuge for dissatisfied colored brothers from the United States, but at orseent there are only 25,000 English-speaking negroes there. The rest of the population of 1,500,000 is made up of African savages. But the descendants of the original settlers from 'he United States are still supreme, and the republic, as small republics go, is well ordered. Revolutions are unknown

Fire in Suburbs.

A bullding at Fifteenth street and Third avenue occupied by William Thomas as a restaurant and billiard hall was damaged by fire yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. Being just outside the city limits, a long stretch of hose was required to reach the blaze, but this was laid after considerable difficulty. The loss to building and contents approximated $2000.

The Nebraska Society is planning to have its annual picnic and reunion at Long Beach on Saturday, the 20th inst. A number of speakers of note and noted singers of notes are to grace the occasion. Most of the picnickers will go on a special train on the Salt Lake, leaving this city at 9 a.m. M. M. Davision, secretary of the society, is in charge of the arrangements.

"Unknown" to the End.

Elequent Womas Preaches.

That a woman can preach may have been proven often before, but the fact has had new demonstration since the coming to Los Angeles of Miss A. Dennis of Richmond, Ind. Miss Dennis was brought to the Coust by Presiding Elder Adkinson to conduct the revival services at the Long Beach camp meeting, where her preaching was marked by unusual eloquence and accompanied by good results. Prior to going to Long Beach she held a successful series of meetings in Grace Methodist Church, this city, and also at Compton. On August 17 she will commence a ten-days' series of meetings in the Vernon M. E. Church.

Sisters of Mercy Convent.

Sisters of Mercy Convent.

Another move for the expansion of Catholic interests in this diocese was amounced yesterday. It is the purchase of a ten-acre tract of land on West Washington street, west of Concord avenue, by the Sisters of Mercy, as a location for their new buildings. The purchase was made from Mrs. Zoe J. Swygart; price about $15,000. Plans are being prepared for an orphanage to accommodate at least 200 children, and for an annex to be used as a convent, with accommodations for fifty. The Sisters of Mercy recently sold their property on East Third street, their first convent in this city, to Thomas Higgins, for $24,000, and he is now tearing down the building. ters of Mercy Convent.

A BARON'S FORGERIES.

Documents.

[Baltimore American:] Old World monarchs are so careful, as a rule, concerning the character and antecedents of their lords and gentlemen-inwalting, realizing that any scandal in which the latter may become lvolved will reflect upon the honor and pressing of their courts, that the announcement contained in the various official gazettes of the German empire to the effect that warrants have been issued for the arrest of Baron von Benzenhofen, who is likewise Marquis Montglat, one of the chamberlains of the reigning Prince of Reuss, on charges of forgery and fraud, has naturally excited a considerable sensation. The Marquis and Baron, who is now a fugitive from justice, and who is understood to have sailed for the United States, was not a mere honorary chamberlain, but one of the actual gentlemen-in-waiting and a regular member of the household at the court of Greis, having been appointed to this dignity and invested with the golden key which is the badge of office chamberlains by the late Prince Henry XXII of Reuss some five years ago. The frauds perpetrated by Yon Benzenhofen were not dictated by motives of robbery, but purely by those of vanity. Of the most plebelan birth and obscure origin, he forged a long series of official documents tending to show that he was both Baron von Benzenhofer and Marquis of Montglat, and it was on the strength of all these elaborate geneaulies of the prince that he was appointed to the office of chamberl in. It has now been ascertained that all the documents in question were fraudulent, and inasmuch as he has still further complicated matters since the death of the late Prince by incurring liabilities on the strength of his nobiliary titles, he is also charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

It is not likely that any attempt will be made to secure his extradition. The authorities will be perfectly satisfied to have driven him out of the country, I may add that at nearly all the country of chiffernia and resident of Pasadena.

The above spiendid testimonial of Hon. Thomas R. Bard's efficiency, pointing out the necessity for his return to the Senate, was the principal work of the Republican County Convention here today. This indorsement was incorporated in the resolutions by the Committee on Platform and Resolutions, and was adopted by the convention unanimously, not the first sign of a fight being evident from any quarter.

SIGNAL VICTORY.

The signal victory for Senator Bard is admitted on all sides; the few who would have opposed any indorsement, and had been straining every effort to swing the convention away from instructions, recognized before it convened that they were cleanly whipped. To save a scrap on the floor, instructions, in the ordinary acceptation of the term, were eliminated, and this more strong instruction embodied in the resolutions, its passage being received with evidence of delight by the delegates and the spectators who had anticipated a struggle, even though it would have been an uneven one.

The Bard victory means that F. T. Leeke of Omtario will be nominated for State Senator from this district. The nomination of Assemblyman Prescott to succeed himself was made unanimous, no other candidate being named. He acknowledges the binding nature of the Bard resolution, and proposes to keep faith with his constituents.

The convention was called to order at 10:30 o'clock this morning by Chairman A. G. Kendall of the Republican County Central Committee, following whose statement of business, C. B. The ladies' lemon race was anything but a sour event, With a lemon in a spoon each contestant had to run the course, turn around a stake and return and deposit the lemon in a hole in the sand. It looked very simple; suppose you try it. Here's where steady nerves come in play. The prises went to Mbs Prince and Mis: Scherer.

The batteries for the drummers were Linn and Barnes and for the clerks, Thomas and Smith. James Wilson was the umpire, and George E. Franklin scorer. The features of the game were the pitching of Linn and the beavy batting of the drummers. For every two-bagger or three-bagger the boys got a box of cigars, and before the close of the game there were sixteen boxes passed out.

There was no other set programme for the forenoon, and the crowds made excursions about the island until lunch time. Bloodhounds on Guard.

"Bloodhounds are used to prevent prisoners from escaping from the Eastern Penitentiary of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia," said Secretary H. H. Shirer of the State Board of Charities.

"At each cell block entrance leading out into the prison yard a hound is placed at night. There is a twofold object in this. If a prisoner gets out into the yard—and that is his only means of escape—the hound gives the alarm by barking. This brings guards who retake thee prisoner, usually. But if he should succeed in getting over the wall, the bloodhound is right there to take the fresh trail and the escaped prisoner is quickly run down."—[Columbia Dispatch.

better known as the political brickmakers, have struck another snag.

First the concern could not furnish the brick for the 'Hill-street storm sewer according to the terms of its contract, and now that another section of the system is about to be built it is said to be still unprepared to furnish the brick.

Monday a contract was let to Williams & Beiser of San Francisco for the Flower-street section of the stormsewer system. The contractors have ten days after the award of the contract to sign up and make good their bonds.

The contract, which is prepared under the instruction of the City Engineer, dixes the time at which work will be commenced.

The politicians will be compelled to furnish the brick for this work in conformity with specifications called for in their contract for supplying brick for the city.

Although members of the company say they will be able to furnish the brick, there is a feeling among Councilmen and others at the City Hall that it will be impossible for them to do so at the present time.

Should the company be unable to supply the brick, the contract makes it incumbent upon the City Engineer to purchase from other dealers, and the politicians will have to make good the difference. This was the course pursued by the city in the case of the Hill-street sewer. Such methods, however, are not conductive to the making of large profits for the company, and it will no doubt make a strenuous effort to have the time for beginning the work on the sewer delayed as long as possible.

This scheme could probably be worked were it not for the fact that the people throughout the district which the sewer traverses are demanding that it be built as rapidly as possible.

In view of this fact it is not thought likely any attempt to delay the work how glad he was to be home again. He had great plans for the future, and contrived to persuade his wife to intrust to him the $200 which she still had on deposit in the bank. Having got his clutches on this additional little hunch of money, Eligit, again departed without even kissing his old wife good-by.

He sped away to Denver and there began some kind of a legal-proceeding to get possession of the eighty acres, the title to which was standing in his wife's name. When he failed in that he remained away from his wife until he had expended the last cent of her hard-earned money and then returned to again pose as the repentant prodigal.

In brief this was the story told about the old almshouse inmate yesterday, and in rendering judgment Judge Allen stated that he didn't blame Mrs. Elliott for leaving her husband and requaing fo live with him. She makes from $5 to $5 a week out of her little store, and that is practically all that she has. The Colorado land is valueless without water upon it, and in all probability during the lifetime of Mrs. Elliott will not be worth much.

Judgment was given in favor of the wife.

Rabe was a stonecutter and lived in Los Angeles for a long time. When the Hawaiian Islands were absorbed by Uncle Sam he go the Honolulu fever and went to enjoy life "under a bamboo tree." But unfortunately Rabe got sick and died on December 7, 1900, on the same day making a will which was admitted to probate in the Circuit Court of Hawaii.

It turned out that when Robert Rabe went to the islands he didn't tale all of his money with him, and consequently the will was also offered for probate here by Emil G. Hirsch of Santa Clara, who is named in the will as executor.

Providencia and Scott tract, worth about $1890.

To realize upon the estate was somewhat difficult by reason of Rabe having died in the islands, but Hirsch had cleared most of the obstacles when a disturbing influence made itself felt. Charles G. Rabe of San Francisco was, apparently, disgruntled at being cut out of the will altogether, and his brother had not got on well to gether, and he felt sore. He petitioned the court here, asking that the probate of the will be revoked. The claim was set up that there is no law of California providing for the admission to the of the will be revoked. The claim was set up that there is no law of California providing for the admission to the courts of a certified copy of a will filled in the Circuit Court of Hawaii. In a way it was a legal fight over a war issue again. Then, too, it was claimed that the will was off-color in that the mark supposedly made by the deceased stonecutter showed no indication of being authenticated.

The petition raising this contest was filed just at the time that Hirsch had filed his final account and was asking for distribution of the estate. The realty had been sold and there was about $3590.75 on hand for the devisees after all costs and expenses had been paid. But this latter petitionwas hung up until Brother Charles could be dealt with. He got his quietus yesterday.

could be dealt with. He got his quetus yesterday.

Attorney James Taylor Rogers, who for a time contested supremacy with "Habeas-corpus" Ladd as an authority in habeas-corpus cases, represented the protesting brother. Counsel was armed with a great lot of legal contentions and hair-splitting technical points. The administrator was represented by Attorney P. J. McCormick, and he merely put his side of the case concisely without attempting to dight the men of straw that had been arrayed against him.

the men of straw that had been arrayed against him.

Judge Wilbur held that Charles Rabe had no right in the estate whatever, and that the will having been properly executed there existed no excuse for his attempting to raise issues that were of no moment to him in any case.

The estate will be distributed by Hirsch.

DRUNKEN SAILORS IN ROW.

When the good ship made for the port of San Fedro some time ago the hands began a quiet surreptitious joilification, and several of them got intoxicated. John Small was the cook, and for the time being he let the galacter of the sail of the sail somewhere on the bosom of the Pacific ocean.

Attorney Angus R. Lindley wanted to have his client discharged, arguing that the row had merely been the result of the joyous exhiliaration fait upon making port after a long voyage, and that Small had not done any harm worth talking about. Inasmuch as the defendant has been boxed up in the County Jail for two months the court thought that be had been punished enough, and in any case it would be hopeless to carry the case to trial.

MOORE LINEN BEING AIRED.

Alice Moore is before Judge Trask telling the full history of her troubles. They, have had their rise and origin in the one source—her husband, A. J. Moore. He is a burly carpenter who cottage home at Pasadena.

Several months ago the husband abducted one of the children from the possession of his wife, and there was great turmoil about it. The husband was arrested as an outcome of the affair and his wife have been in the side of the several s tion was going on it was a kind of side issue to a suit for divorce begun by the wife, and which later was allowed to drop or was dismissed by Moore. But that didn't please Mrs. Moore and she began a suit on her own account, and it is that action now up for trial.

Yesterday the courtroom was filled with the friends of either the husband or the wife, and all of the day Mrs. Moore was upon the witness stand. It took her some time to tell the story of her woes, after the attorney had detained her in cross examination and delved and dived after the ins and occurred in the household.

The parties were married in August, 1896, and there are three children of the union. Two years after being married Mrs. Moore stated that her life began to be of the strenuous order. In that year her husband made his first attempt to kill her with a knife. That was in October, 1898. Then in July, 1901, he made his second attempt, this time with a chair. In March, 1908, September of the same year, again on December 12 and also on Christmas eve, he reneated his onslaughts with deadly intent, and on each occasion with a knife, save the last time, when a chair and an axe had the preference.

Then, too, the wife complained that her husband lost no opportunity to "lilify and malign her. To other persons and in her presence he accused her of being unchaste, and denied the paternity of the second boy, Cecil. On many occasions, too, he sought to vent his spite on Cecil, and brutally ill-ursed the boy and on several occasions he gave liquor to the young-est boy, Albert, until the Ind became quite drunk.

The testimony offered yesterday was all along such a line as this, but Mrs. Moore was prompt in answering though sometimes she was led to dig small pitfalls for herself by counsel, and would then be involved in contradiction.

In due course Moore will himself have charges to hurl at his wife, and would then be involved in contraction.

In due course Moore will himself have charges to hurl at his wife, and everything that is bad he alleges against the mother of his children. Indeed some of the allegations are of such a nature as not to be discussed in the open at all.

CRAZY ON FIGURES. LESTER GOES TO PATTON.

Traveling Done by Birds. Traveling Done by Birds.

The amount of traveling done by some of our birds is astonishing. Dr. Cooke says that the common nighthawk spends the summer in Alaska and the winter in Patagonia. It covers 760 miles from Cuba to the South American coast in a single flight, following a track not popular with other birds, which might be called the boboli.2x route.—[Saturday Post.

The players that didn't kill the ball when they got a good swipe at it made up the shortage by fine fielding and the performance went with a rush. Toman and Ross tried to knock the cover from the ball two or three times. Jud Smith made a three-ringed circus catch of a high liner and Dunleavy snared five files in left field. Smith's catch was one of the best ever seen in this league. It was on a high liner that Kruger sent ten feet from the ground over third base with the opening of the second inning. PONIES GIVE GOOD RACING.

Some Hot Finishes Result in Several Events.

> Stewards Set Aside First Race for Fouling.

F. D. Hudson Rides Number of Winners-Prices.

Victorious favorites and several un usually closely-contested races were yesterday's features at the old track in North Santa Monica, where all week some of the best poules and horses in Southern California have been serving up a keen brand of sport

Marred slightly by a little foul rid-ing at the outset which left the first race in doubt and forced the stewards to make an arbitrary decision, the afternoon's racing was on the whole rather better than might be expected of an amateur turf tournament, and two of the races were hot enough to bring a crowd to its feet anywhere. In seven of the eight events carded those of a speculative turn dropped their coin on the right ones, and in consequence prices against winners their coin on the right ones, and in consequence prices against winners averaged very short. In Paris mutuals the public makes its own book, and bettors wager against one another. No bookmaker would care to lay prices on two or three horse races in which one contestant stands out so prominently as Queen Rucker, Ed Lanegan, Commotion and Carlotta did yesterday.

Commotion and Carlotta did yesterday.

Protests caused the stewards to set aside the running of the opening race, which was a 300-yard heat affair. Dr. Boeseke's Sadle, carrying literally a mountain on her back—Boeseke scaled as he sat 240 pounds—took the opening heat from Tom Driscoll's Si, T. H. Dudley's Trixte and H. R. Mackie's Ballona, which finished as named, Sadle winning by a head in a driving scramble at the stand. F. D. Hudson, who captured local amateur records by riding three winners and placing in two other events, piloted his Bobolink to victory in the second heat, defeating Jim Parker on Dot with H. M. Praed's, Nyris third. Winners and placed horses coming together for a final, a great deal of undoubtedly unintentional foul riding took place in the stretch. Both Jim Parker and Dr. Boeseke were protested for outting across with their mounts. As racing was conducted under the English rules which govern pony and galloway events, the matter of fouls lay with die winning by a head in a driving scramble at the stand. F. D. Hudson, who captured local amateur records by riding three winners and placing in two other events, plioted his Bobolint to victory in the second heat, defeat, and the common of the common o usually well judged and finished effort by Maturice Burmester on Mollie Murphy. Hudson on Pedley's Carlotta had the event at his mercy, and Burmester beat out Mayor Dudley on Ocean Waif only by carefully avoiding the early pace and holding fast to the shortest route, moving for the lead at just the right moment. Time for the distance was 1.54%. Hudson on the winner cut out the running all the way around.

All but two of the entrants in the quarter-mile pony dash were drawn and one of those left, Peter Weber's Smithreen, might as well have been so. The gelding is well named: Weber must have had an inkling of his character as a colt. Had there been an inside rail he would have made smithereens of that, as half-way down the stretch the beast swerved sharply under punishment and played the cross; country game, Commotion winning unchallenged.

The hottest finish of the day came in der punishment and played the crossycountry game, Commotion winning unchallenged.

The hottest finish of the day came in the closing event, which proved something of a surprise. D. Machado's Sweetheart, ridden by young Machaddo, 145 pounds, and T. H. Dudley's bay gelding Rex, ridden by Frank Moore, 118, faced the starter, Rex was hardly conceded a chance, but notwithstanding a very loose ride by Moore, he gave Sweetheart all she could do and was only beaten by a short neck. Betting was freely offered that in condition and properly ridden Rex can beat Sweetheart. It is likely a match race will be framed up.

Winning tickets paid $1.90 on Queen
Rucker and Commotion, $1.60 on Carlotts, $1.50 on Koester, $1.45 on EJ Lanegan, $1.40 on Bobolink, and $1.25 on Sweetheart. The play was considerably brisker than on the first day.
Polo will be resumed today, Los Angeles and Riverside playing. This will conclude the week's sports unless something further is decided on for Saturday, such as a five-man team match game, teams to be recruited from all the players now in Sama Monica. This might prove a very pleasant feature. Driscoll, Harry and Bernie Weiss, Praed and A. E. Boeseke for one team, Dr. Boeseke, Elliott Lee, Redmayne, Tom Weiss, Jr., and H. R.
Mackie for the other might prove as even a distribution of the talent as could be arrived at.

One result of the participation of Iroquoia chiefs in the Republican primaries Tuesday will probably be the downfall of about half the ward captains. The showing made at the polls when less than five hundred votes were cast in 168 precincts was discouraging from a Democratic standpoint and when a number of the captains openly boasted that they had helped elect Flint delegates, well that was the last straw.

A quiet conference was held last night after the regular Iroquois meeting and the matter of Democratic participation in Republican primaries was pretty thoroughly discussed. It was agreed by those present that the only way to root out the growing disrace to the party would be a complete reorganization.

Here are eight ward captains who

Last Tuesday's primary elections point out the strong contrast between what such elections should be and what they too often are. The primary elec-practice, for the avowed purpose of af-fording the members of a political party the opportunity to deliberately determine what men shall represent the majority of that one party in con-strictly a party affair. If there is practical unanimity of sentiment within the party, the primary should be the means of declaring that harmony to the world.

If there is a factional contest, it should be the field whereon the several factions contest for supremacy— openly, fairly, honestly and in good spirit, always with the thought of party welfare uppermost in the minds of the voters in order that the minority may accept defeat gracefully and without cal enemies; the deception often prac-ticed upon ignorant voters by giving them the ticket of a certain faction and influencing them to vote it, under the pretense that it makes no vital differpretense that it makes no vital difference which set of men is elected—all these, and all other previous maneuvers, should have no place in a primary election. The contest should be fair and square, honest and above-board, straightforward and dignified—a contest wherein party members, and

It was an invasion by Democrats of Republican territory, an unwarranted, dishonest and im-pudent interference in Republican af-

Last Tuesday's election serves to il ustrate the difference between the ideal primary and the primary as it is too often conducted. "Colonization." were brazenly used to promote the in-terests of a certain faction; and the result does not represent the de-liberately-reached best judgment of a ajority of the Republican party in Los Angeles county, but represents the will of a majority of Republican and Democratic voters who took part in the primaries, most of them as honest Republicans, many of them as Republicans for the time and occasion only. Republicans who vote at Democratic primaries and for Democratic candidates are equally guilty.

What is the remedy for the evils which intect our primary election system? The first need is a revision of the election law which will obviate he possibility of members of opposite ical parties from participating in the primary elections of their rivals, and which will remove from the hands of party bosses acting together the power to employ corruption in fac-tional contests. But until there is such a change in the law, the remedy for existing evils must be found (1) in the greater conscientiousness and onesty of the individual; (2) in the repudiation by the party as a whole of those of its members who stoop to dishonest or even "shady" political practices, and (3) in the rigid punishpment at which political dishonest; the ultimate good of the party to cast out all men who attempt to prostitute its honor by resorting to devious methods to further their ends, then,

PARKER'S POSITION ON THE LABOR QUESTION.

Judge Parker, in his address to the Notification Committee, outlined some things for which he says the Democratic party stands. Among them we find this significant pronouncement on the labor question:

"The spirit of the platform as-"The spirit of the platform assures . . . the protection of property and a guarantee of the enforcement for the benefit of all of man's inalienable rights, among which, as said in the Declaration of Independence, are 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.' Liberty, as understead in the country, means not only the right of freedom from actual servitude, imprisonment or restraint, but the right of one to use his faculties in all lawful ways, to live and work where he will and to pursue any lawful trade or business. These essential rights of life, liberty and property are not only guaranteed to the citizen by the Constitution of each of the several States, but the States are by the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States forbidden to deprive any person of any one of them without due process of law."

Obviously, Judge Parker takes practically the same stand on the labor

TT SOUNDS FUNNY.

When you hear a Democrat say his party is going to win, this year, it sounds funny. When the list of States that they call "doubtful" is scanned, it is still more humorous. The Times has done a little checking up on these States during the past few days, for the benefit of its readers, and has produced statistics that show Democratic claims to be utterly fallacious. Indiana, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Wisconsin and West Virginia are perfectly eafs in the Republican column. New York, while regarded as close, gives new and stronger evidences. When you hear a Dem close, gives new and stronger evidences of Republican victory with every week that passes, and especially since the people have had a chance to estimate the caliber of Judge Parke through his weak and wishy-wash speech of acceptance.

At this writing it seems a m tainty that the election in November by a clear majority of 156 electors votes, as shown by the following table

FOR PARKER

In the Presidential election of 1900 the vote in the electoral college stood 292 for McKinley and 155 for Bryan. This year the electoral votes of the States are increased, and now show a total of 476. According to the above tables Roosevelt's majority will be 156 while McKinley's was 137. The country does not want a change of administration, and the States that voted for McKinley will now vote for Roosevelt with the exception of Maryland, which is likely to swing back into the

Every time a ruler or a minister is assassinated in Europe there is a great deal of talk about the crushing out of anarchists. But after the funeral little more is heard upon the subject until another assassination occurs. No half-way measures should be employed when anarchists are concerned.

REAL ESTATE NUMBER.

The Times will issue, on August 22nd, a special Real Estate Number. The subject matter and illustrations will be devoted entirely to city and suburban lands, country property, building industries and real estate enterprises, past progress and future prospects. A graphic history of the development of the Southwest during the last quarter century will be made one of the principal features of the publication, and no effort or expense will be spared to make the facts contained in this special edition authentic and informing. It will be essentially a publication for the prospective homeseeker and settler.

Advertisers desiring space in this number should consult the Business Department at once, as advertising cannot be received for it later than August 15.

It is the intention of the publishers to mail a copy of this special number to a selected list of over 20,000 persons now living at a distance.

WHY HE IS CALLED "PANTE."

Ovid Bell gives in his Fulton Gasette the explanation most favorable to Vandiver, Folk's manager, of the way he got the nickname "Panta."

"Mr. Vandiver," writes Editor Bell, "had received a hurry-up call to come home to look after his political interests. Four or five ambitious statesmen in the Pourteenth District were blighting his prospects for being returned to Congress, and his friends thought is best for him to be on the ground.

"Mr. Vandiver instructed his secretary, Hal Woodside—who has had charge of the Folk hegdquarters in St. Louis since last January—to preparties grip for the journey home, and also, to collect some public documents and frank them to his Missouri address."
